General Assembly Heads For New Record in Time Required To Grind Out First Measures

Harrisburg, (AP)—The 1953 General Assembly appears headed for a new record in the time taken to turn out its first piece of legislation.

The current session goes into its third month next week without a single bill having made its way through the two houses. The 1951 session holds the record of taking until March 12 to get its first bill to the governor.

The first bill of the year-long 1951 session was sent to the governor on March 6, 1951.

Unless there is an unexpected speedup in the legislative mill, the 1951 record is almost certain to fall.

So far, the Senate has stamped its approval on only six bills while five others have passed the House. None are major administration measures. The Senate has 14 other bills on the floor while the House has 10 awaiting final passage.

None of the 11 bills passing one chamber have been released by committees in the other house.

The only major administration bill introduced so far is the twice-amended Constitution bill up for final passage Monday in the House.

Such controversial measures as new taxes, legislative reapportionment, truck weight limits and setting up a Fair Employment Practices Commission have not even made their appearance.

Both Rep. Albert W. Johnson and Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, the Republican floor leaders, agreed that the current session won't produce a record amount of new legislation.

The lawmakers plan to hold public hearings on the economy recommendations during the next six weeks while studying another report of the state study committee.

Then they will take up the question of how to raise the 157 million dollars in new taxes. The estimated would be needed to balance his record $1,428,000,000 budget.

The 434 House bills and 207 measures introduced in the Senate is a new low for any Legislature's first two months since 1925.

This is the President's first trip out of the Washington area since his inauguration Jan. 20. He was accompanied from the capital by Mrs. Eisenhower, her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver, Colo., and by a small staff of White House aides. The party will return to Washington Sunday afternoon.

The answer is still no," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower got in a little practice immediately after he arrived yesterday. He whacked balls from the tee for about a half hour.

Nixon Senatorial Fund Report Filed

Washington (AP)—Dana Smith, the Pasadena lawyer who acted as trustee of the controversial Nixon senatorial fund, has filed with Congress a report showing he handled $25,056.63 in contributions during Richard M. Nixon's vice presidential campaign.

The New York Post printed a story about the report yesterday, saying the figures show there was a "Nixon fund of $43,291.63 instead of the modest $18,235 mentioned by the vice presidential candidate" last year.

Bernard Brennan, who was campaign manager for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket in Southern California, termed the newspaper story "a continuation of smear attempts against Nixon."

Drop of Two-Tenths of One Per Cent Is Revealed in Government Index Release

Washington (AP)—The government reported today that living costs dropped two-tenths of one percent between mid-December and mid-January.

The decline, mainly due to lower retail prices for food and clothing, was reflected in a new consumer price index put out for the first time today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The new index is designed to reflect consumer price changes more accurately than did the one used previously. It prices more items, covers more cities and brings the calculations up to date on new consumer buying habits.

The new index for mid-January is 113.9. Government living cost figures always are a month or so late because of time required to compile them.

Many labor unions had contracts under which wage rates were to be adjusted upward or downward according to changes in the old index.

A spokesman for General Motors Corp. said the new living cost figures indicated a one-cent-per-hour decrease in wages for about a half million of its employees.

The "old index" standing mid-January is to be announced later but not for several weeks.

Prospects are that the "old series" figure for mid-January will not become available until April 1.

The biggest price drop between mid-December and mid-January came in the meat category, dropping nearly two per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said a modest price decrease was general in most of the 46 cities at which prices were obtained for the new index.

Food declined 0.6 per cent during the month.

Mourners Scanned In Search for Murderer

Pittsburgh (AP)—State troopers mingled with mourners today at a funeral home in the Bloomfield section in hope of finding some clue to the person who stabbed and strangled red-haired Mrs. Alice Marie Storch.

Other officers watched the new gray sandstone home along Route 19, three miles north of Warrendale, Butler County, where Mrs. Storch died late Thursday night, apparently fighting off an intruder.

The body of Mrs. Storch, 49, a former Pittsburgh resident, was brought here for burial. Services will be held tomorrow.

Squire's Decisions In Deer Cases Are Upheld By Court

Veney Sharp of Torpedo, and Earl W. Sherman of Clarendon R. D., charged with driving while intoxicated, were each fined $100, payment of costs, and sentenced to 10 days in County Jail when they came before Judge Allison D. Wade this morning, while Magistrate Tracy M. Greenlund's action in the case of E. F. Tome of Corydon, was upheld by the court.

Magistrate Greenlund has fined the Corydon man $200 and costs for the illegal sale of two deer and $25 and costs for transporting an untaxed deer. The decisions had been appealed.

James Hook of Sugar Grove, before the court on a charge of burglary and larceny, was sent to the Huntingdon Training School, and Gladys Hunt, charged with contributing to the delinquency of two minors, was placed on probation to Mrs. Lenore Jordan, county probation officer, and to the woman's sister.

The court sentenced James H. Barnes of Warren, to serve 30 days in jail for contempt of court in not having paid a fine levied against him for driving while intoxicated about a year ago.

Several non-support actions came up for consideration this morning while three juvenile cases, other non-support cases, and possibly a special hearing on a naturalization application were to come before Judge Wade this afternoon.

Administration Dispute Stirs K. C. University

Kansas City, (AP)—A dispute over administration of the University of Kansas City has erupted into a campus-wide controversy, including student boycotts and revolt against the school's president.

An estimated 500 of the university's 1,880 students voted at a mass meeting to boycott classes, at least until noon today when another mass meeting was scheduled.

The Law School faculty voted an expression of "no confidence" in Dr. Clarence R. Decker, university president since 1938. Students circulated petitions declaring a "complete lack of confidence in Dr. Decker and university policies."

Resignation of four top school administrators Wednesday brought the dispute into the open.

The four faculty members who resigned contended the president was the greatest single obstacle to sound growth of the school.

Warren High Band Concert Is Mar. 16

Harry Summers, director of the Warren High School band, announced that the date of March 16 has been chosen for the mid-winter band concert.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Some light snow is expected over the north portion for the week end and rain or snow is likely about Tuesday.

U. N. MARKS TIME WAITING FOR VISHINSKY

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Bogged down by Soviet silence, delegates to the 60-nation United Nations Political Committee took off today for an enforced three-day weekend.

All were awaiting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's promises reply to U. S. charges that the Russians started the Korean War, are prolonging it with military assistance to the Reds and could end it whenever they wanted to.

With the U. N. Allies holding firm to a no-compromise stand on acceptable peace terms in Korea, the emerging Western strategy appeared to be to place squarely on the Soviet Union the whole responsibility for prolonging the war or bringing it to a quick end.

Vishinsky stayed away from all subsequent meetings after announcing Wednesday he accepted the challenge by chief U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. to disprove the American charges.

Angry diplomats yesterday accused the Soviet head man of contempt and of keeping a "studied silence" while the world waited to know whether he had any constructive proposal for meeting the U. N.'s Korean peace terms.

To keep the ball rolling in the debate during the waiting period, Australia's Sir Percy Spender said yesterday the free world "simply is heartily sick and tired" of Vishinsky "tirade of invective and vituperation" and challenged him to say something new and constructive for a change. Others said that before speaking they want to hear what Vishinsky has to say and what Lodge will reply.

When one agreed to speak at sessions of the major Political Committee scheduled for today and Saturday, Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil suspended meetings until Monday.

Jaycees Planning Two-Day Event For Fourth Celebration

A tentative program was outlined and six committee chairmen were appointed when the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Fourth of July Celebration committee met with Chairman Jack Barr at the American Legion home last night. Sixteen members were present to show early interest in planning the two-day event.

According to committee secretary Bill Lutz this morning, the rounded out schedule lists the crowning of the Celebration Queen, the Street Dance and fireworks for Friday, July 3, with the parade, drum corps competition, finale prize and fireworks on Saturday, July 4.

Committee chairmen appointments made by Chairman Barr were: Queen committee, Richard Corcoran; Fireworks, Richard Krapfel; Finale Prize, Royce Black; Gate committee for field, Jerry Vesling; Bus, James Deigan; and Parade Judges, Earl Able. More selections will be made later.

Barr also reported to the group that letters have been written with the intention of bringing state VFW and American Legion drum corps champions from the tri-state area, Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York State, to participate in the competition the day of the Fourth.

It was also learned that the famed Toronto Pipe Band, which appeared here three years ago, has expressed its desire to return to Warren for this year's celebration.

Pittsburgh Patrolman Guilty on Two Charges

Pittsburgh (AP)—Patrolman Martin Scanlon, a member of the city's disbanded Vice Squad, was convicted last night on two charges of obstructing justice in morals cases.

A jury acquitted him on three charges of perjury and a third charge of obstructing justice. Sentencing was deferred when Scanlon indicated he will seek a new trial.

The state charged Scanlon softened his testimony before a grand jury so three suspected sex deviates went free. His trial was the ninth to result from a special state grand jury investigation of the squad.

Kinzua Resident Is Killed on Crossing

DEMOLISHED COUPE is seen crushed against freight car in background as covered body of Clayton Libbey, crossing victim, lies in foreground.

Clayton E. Libbey, 72-years old, a lifelong resident of Kinzua, was instantly killed at 12:55 p. m. today when the car he was driving was struck by #701, the northbound Olean freight train on the Pennsylvania crossing at Kinzua.

Indications were that Mr. Libbey had turned his 1937 Plymouth coupe suddenly to the right as he saw the train, and the machine was dragged about 100 yards, two cars of the freight being derailed. Mr. Libbey was thrown under the train, his body was badly mangled and he was dead when nearby residents and the engineer, R. H. Carr of Oil City, reached him.

Mr. Libbey, a member of the Kinzua Methodist church, had been retired for some years prior to which time he was a lumberman and carpenter. He was a bachelor and his only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Joseph Van Buskirk of Kinzua.

Removal was made this afternoon to the Peterson Funeral Home, with funeral arrangements yet unmade. Coroner Ed C. Lowrey reached the scene of the accident within 40 minutes and is conducting an investigation.

Glade Fire Department Plans Demonstration of New Truck Sunday in the Oakview Area

At Thursday night's monthly meeting of the Glade Township Volunteer Fire Department, held in Irvinedale school, plans were made for a Sunday afternoon demonstration of the new fire truck in the Conewago avenue extension and Oakview areas. The firemen will meet at the Municipal garage in Crescent street at 2 p. m., and it is probable the demonstration will end with a pumping try-out at the State Hospital bridge or some other point.

Copies of the new department by-laws were handed out at last night's meeting, minor corrections were made, and they were passed on second reading for adoption at the March meeting.

1943 Is the number for Glade Township residents to call in case of fire. This is the telephone at the Glade pumping station and may be used at any time of day or night.

Chief Charles Knapp announced that arrangements have been made with the Warren Water Company for its employees at the Glade pumping station, who are on duty 24 hours each day, to receive fire calls at Warren 1943. They, in turn, will start the process of notifying the fire department members.

All present at last night's meeting listed their names and telephone numbers with Chief Knapp, and he asked that others contact him with the same information. Lists of all homes on two roads have been completed, the work of the importance of the Glade unit having been accepted as the listing on the other three roads is in process and will soon be in the chief's hands.

B29 CREW BAILS OUT FROM CRIPPLED PLANE

Tokyo (AP)—A seven-man crew bailed safely out of a U. S. B29 weather plane today after one of its four engines flew apart over Tokorozawa, a suburb, the Air Force reported.

The crippled plane, on a routine training flight, presumably crashed in the Pacific Ocean, the Air Force said.

Youngville's own high school quartet, The Maestros, will sing a group of numbers. Another young quartet, which at last Warren show, gave a stirring performance, is the Dynachords, from Erie.

A newly organized Warren quartet, The Four Horsemen, will make its debut at this show. Also to be heard in Youngville for the first time will be The Spebsquaws, a female quartet from Cambridge Springs. They, too, were a highlight of the recent Warren show.

Always popular are the Symphonic Four, from Jamestown, whose instrumental antics are a source of many laughs. This group has a brand new act, it is reported.

Phoebe Jewell, outstanding young dancer, will do a specialty dance, "My Indian Maid", accompanied by the Warren Chorus.

Master of ceremonies for the show will be Leroy Schneek, who has handled that chore for practically all the concerts in this area.

Lovers of vocal music will find a most enjoyable evening in store for them, the committee reports.

NO RED MIG FIGHTERS ARE ENCOUNTERED

Seoul, (AP)—Swift U. S. Thunderjet fighter-bombers today pounded a huge Communist training center on the Manchurian border and left it in flaming ruins, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

The base was located at Chusan, 25 miles southeast of Uiju on the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria.

Pilots said they destroyed 10 buildings and left the sprawling installation smothered in flames. Screening Sabre jets encountered no Communist MIG fighters.

In frontline sweeps, Marine and Air Force fighter-bomber pilots reported destruction of 26 buildings, three personnel shelters, two sections of a rail bridge and other Red installations.

On the ground, Allied infantrymen drove off seven Communist attacks and killed more than 60 Communists—including 35 members of a balking Chinese patrol.

An Allied unit caught 40 snooping but reluctant Reds in an ambush east of The Hook on the Western Front.

In the air, 11 U. S. B29 Superforts last night blasted a sprawling Communist supply center on the North Korean east coast south of the Wonsan. Crewmen reported the area rocked with mushrooming explosions.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said B-26s light bombers leveled 52 buildings and touched off 40 secondary explosions at a Red troop supply area near Pukchong on the east coast.

Wonsan Harbor absorbed a new beating from naval guns and warplanes in a five-hour bombardment yesterday. The Navy said the battleship Missouri and the destroyer Cowell concentrated on caves and gun emplacements.

Some 179 planes from the carriers Valley Forge and Philippine Sea blasted Wonsan and factory buildings to the south.

In the Western Front, United Nations troops threw back a 150-man Red attack near Kelly Hill in bitter, close-range fighting. The Reds opened the jab with a 5,600 round artillery and mortar barrage.

On the Eastern Front, U. N. artillerymen pinned down 50 to 80 Reds stabbing at Allied positions near Luke the Gook's castle. Twelve Chinese were counted dead and the rest crawled back to their own lines.

VIDEO WRESTLING IS TOO MUCH FOR LAD

Portsmouth, O. (AP)—Eleven-year-old William Dillow was watching a wrestling match on television.

Overcome with excitement by the grunt and groans, he leaped from his chair and threw a stranglehold on his mother.

Mrs. Betty Dillow, 31, of nearby Vanceburg, Ky., suffered a fractured jaw.

Excellent Program Arranged for Night Of Harmony in Youngsville March 6th

The committee of Youngsville Kiwanis Club, headed by Lon Halfast, which is in charge of the "Night of Harmony" being sponsored by the group on Friday, March 6, for the benefit of the Boy and Girl Scout Jamboree Funds, announced today that there are still many fine seats available for the concert. The affair will take place in Youngsville High School auditorium.

Tickets are available from Kiwanis member, and seat reservations will be made at the E. J. Abraham and Sons store on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, from seven to nine p. m. A fine program has been arranged for the concert. Appearing on it will be the Warren Barbershop Chorus, generally acknowledged the best in the area. Also to appear will be the Chord Cadets, district finalists in the Seneca Lands District. This quartet, which has been together for a long time, includes Bob Dietrich, Boyd Sanden, Earl Ericson, and Jim Cruickshank.

Youngville's own high school quartet, The Maestros, will sing a group of numbers. Another young quartet, which at last Warren show, gave a stirring performance, is the Dynachords, from Erie.

A newly organized Warren quartet, The Four Horsemen, will make its debut at this show. Also to be heard in Youngville for the first time will be The Spebsquaws, a female quartet from Cambridge Springs. They, too, were a highlight of the recent Warren show.

WITH ADVENT OF SPRING "WELLS CASE" AS DEEP A MYSTERY AS EVER

By HELL HOSKINS

Red maples are in first bloom along the desolate country road which climbs Robbins Hill and are in vivid contrast to the dust-drenched foliage which lined that road just seven months ago when Mrs. Gordon F. Wells trudged along, pushing an empty wheelbarrow, and then dropped out of sight a day later.

Snow is still banked in the rail fence corners, its white aprons are flung along the edges of densely wooded tracts, but signs of another spring are numerous even on the heights of Robbins Hill. Buckets hang on the maple trees in front of the Linsendell-Greene home where Mrs. Wells made a call just before her disappearance, perhaps forever, from Robbins Hill. From the end of the macadam, near Cable Hollow, the unimproved road is in fair condition as far as "Hill Acres," the Wells summer home, but from there on, past the Quaker Hill camp and other deserted farms and camps, an early spring has dropped the bottom out of the road and the mud is deep.

The great house at "Hill Acres," painted a sombre red, looks down the road at oncomers with its wide windows, all shades flung high, reflecting an afternoon sun. The gaily-painted post still stands at the roadside but the mail box has been moved inside. The great iron kettle, suspended in the yard, has been propped into a pouring position to prevent an accumulation of winter ice. The spruces and evergreens wave frantically at relatives in the woods, while the many flower beds await warmer weather before blossoming once again.

But the friendly little woman—"our good neighbor" they called her on Robbins Hill—is not there to see this year's transformation from wintry solitude to springtime radiance.

Mrs. Wells was last seen at "Hill Acres" on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 30, 1952, when she conversed as usual with a neighbor in a camp across the road. The neighbor, Mrs. Gould, said Mrs.

Wells did not appear agitated in any way and said nothing to her about going away. A day or so before, she had called on Mrs. Linsendell and Mrs. Greene, and gave no indication of worry or despondence. But when her husband returned from a business trip, late that Wednesday, he found her gone and claimed two one-ounce vials of strychnine had disappeared from a bureau drawer where he kept his neckties. He also said her heavy walking shoes and a long-handled trowel-spade were not there.

A check with relatives in New England and extensive searches through the wooded areas, headed by Sheriff L. E. Linder, Pa-troelman Paul Dell of the Pennsylvania State Police, and resumed later by the Russell Volunteer Fire Department and other volunteers, failed to turn up a trace of the missing woman.

"She's dead in those hills!" the woman's husband declared to a Times-Mirror reporter, and residents of Akeley said yesterday that he still maintains his belief that her body is in the remote mountain area.

The long walk down the mountain road, toward Cable Hollow, which Mrs. Wells took the day before she disappeared was with Wassilij Gusev, 57, a displaced person who had been in the Wells' employ. He left that day for New York, his gear loaded on the wheelbarrow, while Mrs. Wells wheeled along behind. Some distance down the road he was picked up and given a lift into Akeley, from whence he went to the Wells winter home at 32 Pearl street, Frewsburg, where he obtained his other possessions before taking a bus in Warren. Mrs. Wells, pushing the barrow back up the hill, was overtaken by the mail carrier and given a lift, along with the wheelbarrow, to the Wells home. She asked the carrier to wait, ran into the house and brought him a letter to mail, addressed to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Rivers of Burlington, Vt. The contents of this letter never were divulged, although Mr. and Mrs. Rivers came later to stay for some time with Mr. Wells and to aid in the search. In mid-August, Sheriff L. E. Linder located Gusev at the farm Colony of Madame Sophie Behn Tolstov, famous Russian refugee, near Village Cottage, N. Y. The colony claimed Gusev had received no mail from Mrs. Wells and that he came directly there after arrival in New York, eliminating him as a suspect in the woman's disappearance.

Elk township residents said yesterday they would not be surprised to see Mrs. Wells return at any time. They claim she had left her husband before and that he brought her back after finding she was working in Ohio. "She wasn't the sort of woman to take her own life," they declared yesterday.

But the months have sped by. The hot summertime, when Mrs. Wells disappeared, turned into a glorious fall and with the opening of small game season a close watch was kept on the Robbins Hill mountainside in expectation that some hunter would uncover evidence. Winter came, and the snow-covered hills, with valleys drifted full, kept their secret, if a secret they had to keep. And now, with the advent of spring, "the Wells case" is as deep a mystery as ever.

Hundreds of Volunteers Ready To Stage Annual Drive For County Red Cross Chapter

Warren County Red Cross is well prepared for the task that faces it next week when many hundred volunteer workers will begin soliciting every nook and corner of the borough and county on behalf of the Annual Red Cross Fund. The goal this year is $26,117; a slight increase over last year's total.

Every ward in the borough and all districts of the county have been well supplied with volunteer workers who will make a determined and sincere effort to raise the sum needed to carry on the Warren County Chapters share of the work of the Red Cross, nationally as well as locally.

It is interesting to note that the principal boost in the over-all Budget of the Red Cross this year is brought about solely by the added emphasis being given the important Blood Donor Campaign which is being pushed with increased vigor. An interesting side light of the campaign, just recently brought to light, is a new technique which doctors have developed which has resulted in still another derivative from whole blood—gamma globulin.

This gamma globulin has been used successfully as a new weapon against paralysis from polio and has also been used, with marked success, in measles.

To make the most effective use of gamma globulin the Office of Defense Mobilization requested that the Red Cross expand its defense blood collections to provide the maximum amount of globulin possible. Now, so that many children may be spared a lifetime of handicap, the Red Cross, with its extensive blood-collecting facilities, has entered wholeheartedly into this new phase of blood collection. It has been found out that it takes a little more than a pint of blood (the average donor gives but one pint) to produce an average dose of gamma globulin. This globulin contains antibodies that attack the polio virus. One dose may protect an individual against paralysis from polio for the period of the second through the fifth week following injection.

Since gamma globulin also will be needed for measles modification and prevention of infectious hepatitis, the need will far exceed the supply. Thus to provide equitable distribution, the government established an allocating and distributing agency. The Red Cross will have this added responsibility.

While the month of March, as has been the custom for many years, will be known as Red Cross month it is hoped the bulk of the campaign in the borough and county can be cleaned up the first week. All workers in the nine wards of the borough as well as district workers in the county have been asked to complete their work of solicitation by March 9th.

Since men, and all employees in industry, will not be solicited at their places of business it means that the bulk of the money to be raised must come from the head of the house, and others, in the individual homes of the entire county. Hence every effort has been made by Ralph Sires and Donald E. Schuler, who head the borough and county solicitation, to stress the importance of the calls which will be made on every home in the

GIVE!

To carry on its vital services to the armed forces in this country and overseas, its services to veterans, its blood bank program for the armed services, civilian hospitals and a civil defense plasma reserve, its disaster relief activities, and many other services, the Red Cross must raise $26,000,000 in March ($26,117 in Warren County). Help keep these essential services in operation by contributing to the 1953 Red Cross fund campaign!

CORRY DOCTOR HURT

Corry Journal: Dr. G. E. Schreus, 42, of Clymer who suffered a fractured skull and possibly other injuries when hit by a limb on a falling tree which he and another worker had chopped down, was removed to the Buffalo General Hospital Tuesday by the Bracken-Keating ambulance of Corry. He was placed under the care of a specialist at the Buffalo institution.

SPARTA MAN HURT

James Hunt, 35, of Spartansburg suffered a fractured hip Tuesday when a falling limb struck him while he was cutting trees for logs. Hunt was removed first to the Titusville Hospital but later to Hamot Hospital in Erie where he was placed in the care of a bone specialist. He was injured while working with a group of loggers at Buell's Corners.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Edward T. McDermott, who four years ago was elected burgess at Kane, becoming one of the youngest men ever to fill that position, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. Mr. McDermott said he was announcing his decision early in advance of the primaries in the hope that a number of qualified men would file petitions for the office.

TIDIOUTE BOY HURT

X-rays revealed that Joshua Moore, 15, of Tidioute, who shot himself in the foot Sunday, suffered a fracture of the smaller of the two bones of the lower leg. He is in good condition at the Titusville Hospital. The boy sustained the wound while he was shooting rats in his uncle's barn in Neiltown. The .22 caliber slug is still in the foot, and it has not yet been determined whether it will be removed. Joshua is the son of Mrs. Mary Gustafson of Campbell Hill, Tidioute.

RADIO FOR SHERIFF

The Venango County Commissioners Wednesday adopted a resolution authorizing publication of an advertisement for bids on a proposal by the county to purchase a mobile two-way radio communication system including a 30-watt, six-volt, transmitters and receivers for installation in a county owned car and county building. Bids will be received at noon March 30. The bids will be received in connection with a proposal the sheriff's office be equipped with a two-way radio communication system.

NEW HOUSE BILL

Local governments would receive an extra 25 million dollars a year to maintain their streets and roads under a new House bill. Sponsored yesterday by seven Republicans, the measure would call for the return of 25 per cent of the state's motor fund to townships, boroughs and cities. That would increase annual payments from 15 to 40 million dollars. Each local government now receives $122 per mile and 45 cents per capita. Under the new bill, they would get at least $350 a mile and $2 per capita. Assemblyman W. W. Waterhouse of Corry was listed as one of the seven co-sponsors of the measure.

"What's up, Mac? What're they doing?"

It happens to everybody. You. You walk down the street, see a crowd, join it, and watch some strange goings-on. Then you ask somebody what's up — even though you can see what's up with your own eyes.

Chances are that he'll have to get a newspaper to find out—just as you will.

Then, for the first time, you'll discover that the firemen on the ladder were trying to reach a young man who had escaped from the police and climbed a pole.

Being on the spot is not much better than seeing one or two photographs of the action, or seeing a headline about it.

All of these can whet your appetite for news, but they cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

• This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air... or brief headlines here or there... may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brastacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocketbook.

Add to all this the fact that the newspaper reaches just about everybody in town, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most effective advertising medium.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

LARGE DAM OPPOSED
Salamancas Press
New opposition has developed to the plan of Army Engineers for big dam flood control in the area drained by Allegheny River—using the New York state spelling for the stream which in Pennsylvania is known as the Allegheny.

The engineers have proposed a big dam on French creek, which flows into the river below Oil City, some 50 miles below the proposed Kinzua dam. The dam advocated by engineers for French creek would be below Cambridge Springs. Meadville, which is a score of miles below Cambridge Springs, and which suffered heavy flood damage in 1948 and 1949, is urging abandonment of plans for a single big dam on French Creek. Instead it urges a series of smaller dams, including one near Meadville, and the cleaning and "snagging" of the French and Cussewago creek channels above and below Meadville.
A phase of the Meadville flood control discussion of interest to other communities is the statement of the chief engineer for the American Viscose Corporation, which has a plant there, that flood control dams, to be economically profitable, should pay for themselves in savings in 20 years.

EASTER SEAL SALE
Governor John S. Fine has officially designated March 5 to April 5 as Easter Seal Month in Pennsylvania. In his statement calling attention to the campaign the state executive says:
"It is unfortunately true that each year the number of crippled children and handicapped adults in our midst continues to increase. These people need special help and care in order to take their rightful place in our society and in business.
"Through the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults and its local affiliates throughout the state, specialized services of educational aid, medical care and rehabilitation are provided.
"This society is about to begin its annual Easter Seal Drive, to secure necessary funds to support its multiple services to dependent crippled children so that they may become independent and self-sustaining adults
"Restoring the crippled to independence through Easter Seal funds is both economically sound and humanitarian. I urge all of our citizens to support this drive generously."

PSYCHOLOGICAL WAR
In waging its psychological war against the Russians the Eisenhower administration, in the opinion of James Marlow, Associated Press feature writer at Washington, will have to think of the psychological effect it is having at home.
In the long run, Marlow thinks, the degree of support the administration gets for its efforts will depend on the understanding of the people of what's happening and why.
What the administration does will have to be known sooner or later although this doesn't mean it will have to telegraph every punch by stating it publicly ahead of time in ABC fashion.

Today's Message
As Christians we have a high responsibility. It is for us to release in this world the power of God, the peace-descending love of Christ, and thus push back the destroying forces of hate, cruelty, intrigue, and hunger for power, which have had free reign on this earth since World War I.
Christians, we have been asleep! We have allowed ourselves to drift into an easy-going, comfortable, self-first attitude, and yet we have called ourselves disciples of Christ.
Of what value are you to your religion? Do your prayers daily reach the throne of God? Is there in your walk, your talk, anything that sets you apart from the man of the world? Christ wants to know.
—E. S. HJORTLAND
Today's Prayer
Father in Heaven, help us to live each day as Christians should. Give to our lives a rugged piety, a purity of thought and singleness of motive that will result in strength and beauty of character. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

This "That": The television set for the women's building at Rouse Hospital made possible by the Warren Chapter of the Barber Shop Quartet Singing Society, will be presented Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock and in this connection to learn that other groups planning a similar presentation for the entertainment of guests in the men's building. It was "Johnny" Uricatis who was having a birthday Thursday and not "John" we are reminded, the error being caused by the complication that is not restricted to the Uricatis family due to a similarity of names in the family. Borough officials will meet again with Air Observation chiefs of the Civil Defense next Tuesday evening to discuss further a proposed structure at War Memorial Field to be used both as an observation post for air watchtowers and a press stand for newspapers and radio representatives covering activities at the stadium. While the project is still in the discussion stage, the suggestion has considerable merit and it is just possible that something may be worked out. From all reports a treat is in store for playgoers who attend the home talent show being staged this evening and Saturday night at the North Warren State Hospital as a benefit for the truck fund of the R. E. Department there.

Terse, Tart and Timely: In another column on this page you'll find names of 17 area residents who will miss birthday observances this year because they were born in a Leap Year, on February 29th. The period March 1 to 7 has been designated as Save Your Vision Week, we are reminded by a release from the Pennsylvania Optometric Association. Members of the Crawford County Fair Association's executive committee have approved four nights of horse racing at the fair in 1953. At its meeting this week Meadville City Council approved the installation of twelve-minute parking meters at certain locations in the business section on a six-month trial basis. The Corry Journal nal says that George Sproveri, who has been many of the district scholastic basketball teams in the section while refereeing this season, rates Tidoute a good dark horse contender for District 10, Class C honors. Principal Herb Harris, of Beatty school, who with his wife, Ruth, is attending a convention of principals and school officials at Los Angeles postcards from Azusa, under date of February 23, as follows: "80 to 82 degrees during the day, cool at night, roses in bloom, orange blossoms all around, Santa Anita racetrack a couple miles from Azusa and big derby race yesterday, but we were at convention." The period March 9 to 15 has been designated National Smile Week and everyone is asked to enroll in the Joy Scouts. Joan Rueck, of St. Louis, director of the North Warren Firemen's home talent show, "On Stage America," will leave on Sunday noon for Parkman, Ohio, where she will direct a similar show for the fire department of that place.

New Round of Wage Demands In Prospect for Coming Year

BY PETER EPSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Eisenhower's first press conference expression of faith that American business and American labor would not try to gouge after the removal of price and wage controls will apparently be put to an early test.
This test may come from labor before it comes from business. Both the CIO and the United Mine Workers leaders urged the President to remove wage controls before he took them off.
This presages new wage demands from these unions even though John L. Lewis won a $190 wage increase for his miners last fall. The agreement runs out Oct. 1, 1953.
CIO President Walter Reuther wants to reopen his United Auto Workers contract with General Motors even though it has several years to run.
And the American Federation of Labor's executive committee, at its recent midwinter meeting in Miami, announced a drive for general wage increases "to prevent major depression in 1954 and 1955."
As for the price level, Economic Stabilization Director Joe Freehill predicts that the removal of all controls will increase prices by as much as $3 billion a year. A four per cent rise in prices will increase defense costs by $1 billion, so he says.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER says he could have no greater disappointment than to be forced to go back to Congress and say that the removal of controls had not worked. He anticipates that with controls removed, some prices may go up, and some down. But the natural working of the economic laws will keep prices in line, he believes.
If the President's plan succeeds—and nearly everyone hopes it will—it will provide a perfect example of how emergency controls are supposed to work. In 1951 Eric Johnston, a practicing Republican who was the second economic stabilization director in this Korean war period, outlined a two-year plan to stabilize the economy.
It was a program for allocating scarce materials to get defense production rolling and for economic controls to prevent prices and wages from skyrocketing.
Supply in many lines caught up with demand. Prices dropped below ceilings on the items in over-supply—like meat and cotton. And so it became safe to take off the controls.
The successful working out of this theory—whether it was intentional or accidental—raises immediately the question of whether stand-by controls should be maintained for future emergency use.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER says he does not intend to ask for stand-by authority. But he admits he can't foresee conditions three to six months away. And what he is now trying to do cannot accommodate the present situation, he will go right back to Congress.
At this point the President runs into a difference of opinion with Indiana's GOP senator, Homer Capehart. As chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, Senator Capehart has introduced a new Economic Stabilization bill which would continue stand-by price and wage controls.
Coming from the author of the Capehart amendment of 1951, which was widely acclaimed for guaranteeing built-in inflation by law, this is really something.
It's impossible for Congress to pass a good control law in less than three months and for the government to get it working in less than seven or eight months, says the Hoosier senator. Inflation would run away again in that time if some new emergency arose, he says.
This time all the experience, evidence and arguments seem to be on his side.

Presbyterian Men Joy Address By Westtown Pastor

There were 100 men in attendance at the mid-winter dinner of the local chapter of Presbyterian Men held on Tuesday evening in the dining room of the church on Market street.

An excellent dinner was served by the group by members of the men's Association of the church. The table decorations were in keeping with George Washington's day.

Rev. Robert S. Steen, pastor of the church gave the invocation followed by an opening song and "Christian Men," led by Bert Dietsch, music chairman, and John Behrenberg at the piano.

After the dishes had been cleared away and the cherry pie consumed, Brackett Ayers, toastmaster and program chairman, presented the newly formed Presbyterian Men's quartet composed of Al Wakely, first tenor, John Behrenberg, second tenor, Addison Holes, first bass and L. E. Mills, second bass, who entertained with several fine numbers, receiving enthusiastic applause. The quartet numbers were followed by group singing.

The toastmaster then introduced the group's president, Ralph Sires, who extended cordial greetings to all present and outlined plans for the chapter's activities for the balance of the year. Tentative programs include: a panel discussion on physical needs of the church, at the regular monthly meeting on March 8; a musical program at the April 12 meeting, and another special dinner-meeting in the early fall with outstanding speaker.

Special projects as outlined by Mr. Sires for the group to work on are to include cooperating with the Women's Association in raising funds to pay for the installation of a large dishwasher in the church kitchen, sponsoring a picnic supper on April 8, having charge of arrangements for a church picnic to be held in June or July, and decorating the church inside and out for next Christmas season.

President Sires urged the men to attend the Men's Sunday School and Sunday morning worship services each Sunday, as well as the regular meetings of the Men's group held on the 2nd Sunday evening of each month except in June, July and August.

The Rev. Gilbert F. Van Bever, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Westtown, N. Y., was introduced by the toastmaster as guest speaker for the evening.

Rev. Van Bever used as his text Watch Ye, Stand Fast in the Faith, Could You Like Men Be Strong? He gave a forceful and appropriate talk to the group, stating the great need for men to take the church more seriously. He said that too many men wait to get the feeling for church before attending and becoming active. They should go to church first and then the feeling and aroused interest will come naturally.

He combined considerable humor with seriousness in telling of some of his earlier experiences, and everyone present agreed he gave one of the most inspiring talks heard for some time.

After the singing of "America the Beautiful," the benediction was pronounced by Dr. A. B. McCormick.

Liberian Missionary

The Rev. Seth C. Edwards, of Cuttington College and Divinity School at Suakoko, Liberia, West Africa, will be the speaker at Trinity church school at 9:45 a. m. Sunday and in the 11:00 a. m. worship service. Inasmuch as the Lenten offering this year will go to the church's missionary work in Liberia, all members of the parish are urged to be present to hear about the work in that field from one of its workers.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards is a native of this country, having obtained his college degree in science at Morgan College, Baltimore, and his theological training at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, from which he graduated in 1936. He was ordained to the Priesthood in 1943 and has served as assistant director of the Wilby School for Boys; assistant at Church of the Crucifixion, New York City; and vicar of Church of the Redeemer, Oklahoma City. He has been principal of Cuttington College since 1948. It is one of the oldest institutions of the Episcopal church in Liberia, having been es-

Established in 1888, The Rev. Mr. Edwards, now on furlough, is studying at Harvard University and teaching at Eastern Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.

First Chair Musicians

Samuel Thaviu, brilliant concertmaster of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, and Theo Salzman, first cellist, are but two of the exceptionally talented musicians whose artistry blends to comprise one of the top-flight orchestras of the nation. Both men will be heard when the Jaycee music committee presents the Pittsburgh orchestra, under Director William Steinberg, in the Laboratory Theatre at 8:30 p. m. next Monday.

Now in his seventh year as concertmaster in Pittsburgh, violinist Thaviu has established himself as a tremendous favorite. Earlier, he enjoyed an interesting and colorful career as concertmaster of the Baltimore, Kansas City, and Cleveland orchestras, and has appeared as soloist in many coast-to-coast broadcasts.

This season is Salzman's first in America and with the Pittsburgh orchestra. Born in Vienna, he stepped into the post of first cellist with the Vienna Symphony Orchestra at the age of 18 and has since made a name for himself throughout Europe, the Middle East, New Zealand, and Australia.

Together, the two artists were spotlighted in a recent concert, which featured the difficult Brahms Concerto in A Minor for violin, cello and orchestra. They played in superb ensemble and won wide acclaim for their interpretation of the work, revealing in full its incredible power and beauty. Thaviu's rare instrument is a prized J. B. Guadagnini, dated 1785, and Salzman's cello is an authentic Gofriller, more than 250 years old.

Light & Heat Company Faces Fifth Hike in Purchase Price

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, which was greeted by the New Year with a hike in the cost of the gas it supplies its customers here, today faced its fifth such increase of 1953.

Guy O. McKinley, manager for the gas company here, said his company this week began paying increases totalling another $1,514,000 yearly to three pipeline firms from which it buys gas.

The utility's round of increases got underway January 1, with a $145,000 yearly boost on the Texas and Louisiana gas it buys from the Chicago Corporation.

That hike, on top of this week's boosts, means that Manufacturers is paying out $1,659,000 more a year on increases which went into effect in the first 45 days of 1953.

The four raises swell increases for gas it purchases to over $4,000,000 (M) since the company asked the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission for rate relief last June.

And another supplier firm—the fifth—is expected to follow suit March 9 to the tune of a $287,000 annual increase in the cost of its pipeline gas.

So far, the PUC has permitted the company to pass along part of its soaring gas costs to its customers through a temporary retail rate increase of $2,220,000. Hearings on the permanent $4,245,000 increase are still going on.

The three pipeline company boosts which went into effect this week, all based on the same amounts of gas Manufacturers purchased last year, are:

1. $382,000, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company
2. $955,000, United Fuel Gas Company
3. $177,000, Hope Natural Gas Company

Still pending, but almost certain to go into effect, is Atlantic Seaboard's annual hike of $287,000 which Manufacturers will begin paying March 9.

All increases, with the exception of the Chicago Corporation's January 1 boost of $145,000, go to pipeline companies, and are collected under bond pending PUC approval.

The Chicago Corporation, a producing company, raised its price on the cost of gas purchased directly from wells in Texas and Louisiana. This gas is piped into Manufacturers' territory by Tennessee Gas Transmission Company.

The major increase of 1952 was a $2,345,000 hike last December by Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation. Manufacturers has already cited this price boost in its application to the PUC.

Because demands for natural gas here far outstrip local production, Manufacturers must purchase about 75% of the gas it delivers to its customers from Southwest supplier companies.

The company serves at retail 316,670 customers in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, of which some 215,500 customers live in 13 Western Pennsylvania counties.

Penelec Given Safety Award

Pennsylvania Electric Company's safety record for 1952 was its second best since 1937, officials of the utility revealed today.

E. T. Marshall (left), Penelec system safety engineer, looks on as O. Titus (center), company president, presents the President's Award Plaque to W. J. Utis, Southern division manager, in recognition for the division's record of no loss-time accidents in 1952.

Accident frequency for the 3,003 average number of employees over the entire Penelec system fell to 3.817 per million man-hours worked, a decrease of 58.8 per cent over the company's rate for the previous five years. The record was bettered in the past 15 years only by a 3.53 mark in 1949.

A major factor in the overall improvement was the accomplishment of the company's Southern division, which went through the entire year of 1952 without a lost-time accident. The Southern division covers the southwestern part of the territory served by Penelec. It employs an average of 1,147 persons, 770 of them in the Johnstown district and at Seward generating station.

In recognition for its achievement, Southern division supervisors will be honored at dinners to be held February 25 in Johnstown and February 26 in Clearfield.

The Southern division has received three major merit awards, among them a new President's Plaque, presented by Penelec President O. Titus. It also earned a Safety Merit Award Certificate from Edison Electric Institute in recognition for 2,754,377 man-hours without a disabling injury accident, between November 27, 1951, and January 21, 1953. The certificate is only the 25th to be presented by the Institute to a division or company for two million or more hours.

Further recognition came to the Penelec division in the form of a certificate from General Public Utilities Corporation commending the excellent record established in 1952. The same organization presented its President's Award Plaque to Seward generating for its disabling accident-free operation last year.

The dance known as the gavotte originally consisted of kissing and capering, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Baker-Montgomery Nuptials Are Read By Rev. Stevenson

Beverly Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Montgomery, Tidoute RD 2, became the bride of Byron Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baker, Grand Valley, at 8:00 p. m. Saturday, February 21.

The Rev. Hugh M. Stevenson performed the single ring ceremony in his home, with Mrs. Donna Johnson, sister of the bride, and Clyde Jackson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, as the only attendants.

The bride was attired in a light blue gabardine suit, with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage, and her matron of honor wore a navy gabardine suit, with pink accents and pink carnations. For something old, the bride carried a bouquet of white flowers, and a three-tiered wedding cake, the latter topped with miniature bride and groom figures.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Grandin Auxiliary rooms, Tidoute, with Mrs. Virginia Butler and Mrs. Dolly Huson presiding at a table attractively decorated with green tapers and a three-tiered wedding cake, the latter topped with miniature bride and groom figures.

Eighty guests were present from Ripley, N. Y.; New Wilmington, Garfield, Titusville, Torpedo, Grand Valley, Warren, Tidoute and Sharon.

The young people will be at home at 23 Grant Way, Sunset Heights, Titusville, in a newly-furnished apartment.

Mrs. Baker is a graduate of Tidoute High School and has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company in Warren.

Mr. Baker attended Youngsville High and is now employed in the Grand Valley Machine Shop after serving with the U. S. Navy.

Chandlers Valley PTA Has Program For Founders' Day

There was a good turnout of members and friends for the February meeting and Founders' Day program of Chandlers Valley PTA. President Lois Slagle opened the meeting with Scripture reading and prayer by Paul Slagle.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Mr. and Mrs. Max Gage entertained with several selections on the musical saw and piano; Sue Mesler gave the secretary's report, and Sybil Young, the treasurer's report. Mrs. Rhodes' room won the attendance banner.

Genevieve Akins, program chairman, gave a very interesting talk on Founders' Day and presented a panel discussion, including some of the past presidents of the unit. Mary Johnson, first president in 1920, gave a most interesting account of developments and progress during her term, as did these other past presidents: Edith Hultberg, Emily Eckert, Crystal Hanson, Rachel Nobbs and Lois Slagle. Mrs. Akins presented each past president with a tiny potted cactus as a special remembrance of the occasion.

Another feature was a beautifully-decorated Founders' Day cake, baked by Alice Marie Passenger, and included in the refreshments served by Lois Slagle, Esther Ruhman, Sue Mesler and Sybil Young.

MATTHEW 11:28—"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."
Sometimes called "The Great Invitation," this verse is a beacon light, a haven of refuge to all tired, weary workers in the world. It has far more to give to wearied peoples than any Communism can ever offer.
Here is a promise of faith by which one can be freed from worry and fear in the strain of life. It is no indulgence for weary people that Christ promises; it is refreshment, invigorating, a calming of the human heart that comes from giving one's self in daily fellowship with Him. By helping Christ in the work of cleansing a dirty world, by witnessing to others of His love for us we shall gain a refreshment that will be, not debilitating, but truly invigorating! And men, no matter how heavy life's burdens may be we shall have His presence to undergird us for the lifting of any load!
Y's, Matthew 11:28 is my favorite verse in the Bible.

Jesus Still Leads Us On
BY WILLIAM GILROY, D.D.
WHEN Jesus invited others to follow Him He asserted His place as a leader of men. Teaching humility by precept and example, even washing the Disciples' feet, He nonetheless made clear His spiritual supremacy and the prerogative of His divine mission.
Others who have been ready to profess their discipleship have had no such war in nature or in grace, but as a place for which they were not qualified, or betrayed a trust that calls for high standards of character and achievement.
No call is as urgent in our time than the call for leaders and leadership. The insistence and persistence of the call seems to suggest that there are more who are ready to respond than there are who meet the demand.
Reversing the famous saying that many are called but few are chosen but few are called. Nothing is weaker in our democratic processes than the fact that many, though all, who are elected to public life are inadequate in leadership and lack character or ability.
Jesus challenges the religious leadership of His day. He did not

Bible Words to Live by

MATTHEY 11:28—"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Sometimes called "The Great Invitation," this verse is a beacon light, a haven of refuge to all tired, worthy workers in the world. It has far more to give to weary peoples than any Communism can ever offer.

Here is a promise of faith by which one can be freed from worry and fear in the strain of life. It is no indulgence for weary people that Christ promises; it is refreshment, invigorating, a calming of the human heart that comes from giving one's self in daily fellowship with Him. By helping Christ in the work of cleansing a dirty world, by witnessing to others of His love for us we shall gain a refreshment that will be, not debilitating, but truly invigorating! And then, no matter how heavy life's burdens may be we shall have His presence to undergird us for the lifting of any load!

Yes, Matthew 11:28 is my favorite verse in the Bible.

Wilson O. Weldon, D.D.
Memorial Methodist Church

Historian Tells Story About Cornplanter's Rock in River In Vicinity of Brady's Bend

Harrisburg — State Folklorist Harry W. Shoemaker today told the story of Cornplanter's Rock and the Indian Grave below the rock.

Cornplanter's Rock juts out into the Allegheny River near Brady's Bend in Armstrong County, far from the habitat of the famous Indian Chief for whom it is named.

The story of the rock and the grave were often related by Chief Cornplanter to his children and it has been handed down from one generation to another.

Soon after Braddock's war, Cornplanter happened to be near the rock and saw a huge bull elk at bay, battling a dozen wolves which had driven him to the precipice. From a point below the rock Cornplanter watched the elk's battle for life and saw him finish off his enemies one by one until 11 wolves lay at the bottom of the rock.

In telling the story Cornplanter said:

"I thought an animal that could defend itself so successfully against a dozen powerful wolves deserved his life. After the last wolf had fallen I left him trot away unmolested. I think he was very happy to leave that rock alive."

As to the grave below the rock, that is the story of an Indian who was killed by his white benefactor because the Indian was running away with his wife. The tragedy occurred about 1748 and Cornplanter, having heard of the story, happened to be in the vicinity with a surveying party. Ten years had then elapsed but Cornplanter made a search for the bones and gave them a decent burial in a cave under the rock and set up a brown stone marker. This subsequently became known as the Indian grave.

The story of the tragedy as related by Shoemaker follows:

Sometimes before 1748 Deshayes de Tournai came to Fort Le Boeuf. Soon after his arrival he found an Indian boy baby on the door step and he took care of the child, naming him Anatole. His Indian servants raised the child until he was 12 when Deshayes made him his manservant.

While on leave in France Deshayes married a French noblewoman Emengilde de Astruc-Bernier who claimed relationship to Countess de Barry. On his return to this country he brought his blonde wife with him to Fort Le Boeuf on a special permit signed by King Louis XV.

The half-Indian boy, Anatole, and the blonde bride became fast friends and it was he, rather than his husband, who took her on hunting and fishing expeditions.

Then Deshayes was sent south on an ill-fated exploring expedition to chart a pathway to the Gulf of Mexico. He designated Anatole to look after his wife in his absence.

Later when word was received of Deshayes' alleged death, it was Anatole who was chosen to break the news to the "widow." She decided to leave Fort Le Boeuf and go to a large estate which had been granted to Deshayes by the French king.

When Anatole and Emengilde came to Red Bank Creek near Cornplanter's Rock, Anatole made a small raft to carry the lady and their belongings across the stream. In the middle of the stream the raft upset and Anatole pulled Emengilde to safety on the bank.

Just then they were surprised by the returning remnant of Deshayes' decimated party with Deshayes leading the group. He had survived his wounds but had lost an arm and had a broken leg.

When the wounded husband saw his wife and Anatole he surmised that they were eloping and he fired at Anatole but missed. Anatole leaped into the stream and started swimming to the opposite shore but a bullet from the gun of one of the party mortally wounded him.

Though mortally wounded Anatole staggered up the bank and into the cave under Cornplanter's rock where he died.

The distraught Emengilde was sent back to France where she lived the remainder of her life in seclusion on her parents' estate.

As Cornplanter related his part in the tale he concluded with these words:

"I found Anatole's bones. I gave them decent burial, deep in the cave, and put up a piece of brown stone at the high water mark, which became known as the Indian grave. I think I did right though there was much of the ingrate in the boy."

HUGE BUILDING

If spread out in the usual style of college buildings, the University of Pittsburgh's 42-story Cathedral of Learning would crowd the 42 acres of land surrounding the structure.

Small diamonds are sometimes found in meteorites.

Star-Studded Show Opens This Evening Community Bldg.

After a most successful preview production for children on Wednesday evening, "On Stage America" will begin a two night run this evening at 8:02 p. m. in the North Warren Community Building. This star-spangled show, using a minstrel setting, is set under way with the title of the show "America's on Stage," with the Beaux and Belles of the Minstrel Circle doing a fast-paced cake walk on the stage. The audience gets under way as the Minstrel Circle introduces each member of the minstrel circle, as they how they feel, and then sing to listen to their jokes. The characters in the minstrel are named after the famous people of radio and television, with the popular Amos and Andy, portrayed by Paul Dulliba and George Birmingham, Jr., as endmen.

The show continues as the chorine of cuties known as the de Dandies do a clever dance time to "Alexander's Ragtime Band." The Beaux and Belles of the minstrel circle star in "Down Town" and "Jada, Jada," the hilarity and high-jinks are an all time peak, as they perform in "A-Round the Corner." Following a ten minute intermission, the second part of the show will begin with an American Medley of old time favorites. Following this the talent winners of the evening will be presented. Day night winners will be announced, but their votes must carry through until Saturday night, if they maintain the high number of votes, as given by the audience, they will be presented their prizes.

This is your opportunity to see any of the top amateur acts of a community perform at one time, and also see a first class show. The proceeds of the show go to the North Warren Fire Department. Tickets are still on sale and may be purchased from members of the fire department. Cast and also at the door. There are no reserved seats for the show, so come early and be assured of a good seat.

The Changing Landscape

RALPH G. ECKERT
Soil Conservation Service
Warren

Hello folks: With these mild days it is a good thing this is not Kentucky or Tennessee and a squad of reventurers loose in the county. As we drove along the high road in Farmington township it looked as though the old moonshine stills were really working full time. The little telltale column of smoke rising from the woodlands indicated considerable activity. However, this being Pennsylvania and all law abiding citizens, the only other answer must be sugaring season in Warren County.

From all indications the run this year will be light and not too long mainly as a result of the shortage of moisture in the ground. The early flow caused by the break in the cold weather is helpful in one way, at least. The sap run will be all finished in plenty of time to permit the proper cleaning and storing of equipment for use next year, before the preparation for spring work gets under way. There is a thought among some of the sugar men that it would be better to tap in January, to get the full benefit from their sugar bush, when the weather is as open as it was this last year.

Some other Warren County farmers have been busy preparing the basic conservation plans for their farms and planning their work for this spring. Among those joining the ranks of the conservation farmers are Fern Morton, E. G. Brown and Johnson Moon all from Bear Lake, Charles Russell and son, with their two farms in the Sugar Grove area, Glen Dase in the Lander area and Harold Matteson in the Spring Creek area.

These farmers all have the common problem and have decided that pasture improvement is the biggest need and therefore first in priority of work on their farms. Wet land is a close second on most of the farms so drainage is second in priority. More and more farmers are finding out that improved pastures pay bigger dividends for amounts invested than any other practice.

24-Inch Line To Be Constructed

Oil City Derrick: The Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. will construct a 24-inch pipe line through the southern section of Venango County, according to announcement made here.

The line will be laid from Mercer to a point just north of Coudersport in Potter county and the work will begin April 1.

Approximately 132 miles of pipe will be laid. The line will terminate at an underground storage place near Coudersport.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., the largest distributor of natural gas, plans to store a large amount of Texas - produced gas underground in the Coudersport area.

One hundred and fifty car loads of pipe the being shipped via the P. R. R. to Franklin. Each car holds 675 feet of the two-foot opening pipe, and altogether approximately 20 miles of that pipe will be unloaded at the Venango yards in Franklin. This pipe, shipped here from Buffalo and Pittsburgh, will be used for the work in this immediate area.

There are 11 other shipping points where the pipe is being sent by rail and truck before the project gets underway.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. has two offices in Oil City. One of the offices is in charge of buying up the right-of-ways for the underground line and the other is in charge of the preliminary construction work.

Tennessee will contract the pipe-laying project out to a construction firm.

Work will start at the same time from Mercer and from Coudersport. The two pipe-laying crews will meet somewhere near the midway point.

Data on License Applications Issued By Co. Motor Club

To clear up misunderstandings concerning license tags for trucks, trailers, buses and taxis, the Warren County Motor Club has compiled the following information explaining the different classifications:

Under the new law, passenger car, dealer, motorcycle and farm tractor tags will expire on March 31 each year, the same date for the expiration of all license plates, both passenger and commercial tags, have run out in the past.

Under the commercial classification, tags for trucks, trailers, buses and taxis, will be extended, starting with the 1953-54 licensing year, until May 31, 1954.

The separation of vehicle classifications and the renewal dates for both classes, while in the process of being changed, does not mean commercial vehicle owners do not have to display their 1953-54 tags and be in possession of their new registration cards for that licensing year, until May 31 of this year.

"Until the deadline is changed next year," a spokesman for the club stated, "the renewal date for both passenger car and commercial vehicles remains at March 31. When that deadline arrives this year, owners of vehicle in both classifications are required to have new plates and registration cards."

In order to make a separation in the various classes of tags, the renewal period for commercial licenses, such as trucks, trailers, buses and taxis will be extended for a period of 14 months.

In other words, the new commercial vehicle tags and registration cards will not expire until May 31, 1954.

In order to compensate for the additional use of commercial license plates, the Department of Revenue will make a charge of one and one-sixth for the renewal of registration for each truck, trailer, bus and taxi.

Next year, and in subsequent years, the Bureau plans to mail applications for passenger car, dealer, motorcycle and farm tractor tags early in February, and commercial vehicle applications around the middle of March.

Remember—passenger car or commercial vehicle—the deadline remains at midnight, March 31.

Slight Hike in Prices of Eggs Is Highlight of Food Review

By The Associated Press
Housewives are paying higher prices for eggs in most parts of the country this week.

With the big chains and supermarkets setting the pace, many retail grocers across the nation have upped their prices by about two cents a dozen over last week's levels. In most instances the increases apply equally to all sizes ranging from pullet eggs to large Grade A whites. The boosts reflect a firmer tone in wholesale markets, attributed mostly to stepped-up buying on the part of Midwestern processing companies which supply frozen eggs to bakeries and other large industrial consumers.

Beef continued an excellent buy this week with prices mostly unchanged or slightly lower. Chain stores in some cities featured beef rib roasts, ground beef and sirloin and porterhouse steaks as week-end specials. Other bargains were offered in leg of lamb, loin lamb chops and veal. Pork prices held firm or turned higher, with loin pork chops advancing as much as 10 cents a pound in one Eastern city. Haddock, swordfish and smoked and frozen cod fillets were featured in many stores as Lenten specials.

There were plenty of good buys to choose from on the produce counter. The weekly list of best bargains recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture included potatoes, escarole, endive, carrots and green cabbage. Carrots were heavily featured in many produce stores, and market sources described them as the best food bargain of the week in view of currently large arrivals of high-quality carrots from California, Arizona and Texas.

Also plentiful and moderate in price were oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, Emperor grapes and rhubarb. Increased shipments of wineapples from Western growing areas were reported at some produce markets. Improved weather in Florida brought larger shipments of string beans at slightly lower prices, but many other Florida produce items continued to show the adverse effects of previous wind and rain storms. Cucumbers and egg plant continued scarce and expensive.

Butter dealers continued to worry about overproduction and the likely impact to be expected from any sudden change in government support policies. They noted that the government right now is buying surplus butter at the rate of two million pounds a day. This factor alone, they add, is preventing a break in prices. At the retail level, butter prices showed little change, and dealers said they expected no change unless the government support program is revised.

Neither Baron de Kalb nor Baron von Steuben, foreigners who served with distinction in the Revolutionary War, was a mail baron. Both had assumed titles to further their professional careers.

Scenes From Junior Class Play Staged In High Assembly

In high school assemblies held this morning, students were given a preview of some of the predicaments in which the cast of "Campus Quarantine" will find itself when the junior class presents the drama for the public in Warren High School auditorium next Thursday evening, 8:00 p. m.

In the first scene Deborah Mercer, played by Patricia Harrington, a Kanna Jamma sorority girl, frantically confesses to Edythe Rhodes, enacted by Susan Pearson, that she has sent Edythe's picture to a sports hero, signing her own name. Edythe seems very calm until Deborah tells her that he is coming to the Kanna Jamma house that very night.

Two fraternity brothers, portrayed by David Gibb and Keith Otterbein, come to the house in the second scene to meet the young ladies with whom they have dates, who are Kanna Jamma sorority sisters. Just before they leave, one of the girls, Beryl Shepherd, played by Connie Barto, suddenly becomes ill.

The next scene finds the college students patiently awaiting the verdict of Dr. Atwell, Tim Nelson, who is upstairs examining Beryl. When he comes in he announces that the Kanna Jamma house must be quarantined for two weeks because Beryl has the chicken pox.

Two other fraternity brothers, Robert Fitzgerald, who is cast as Gordon Dunn, and Harry Walker, who are working their way through college by helping in the kitchen, are quarantined with the girls.

In the last excerpt Gordon Dunn receives a visit from a girl whom he seems to know very well, played by Margaret Eaton, for they are caught embracing by a surprised sorority sister, Janis Carlson.

Others in the cast are Nancy Zook and Chase Putnam.

Juniors are already at work selling tickets for the play, and tickets may also be purchased at the high school office.

Gunfighter's Return by Leslie Ernenwein

Chapter 28

OBEEDIENTLY, as if impelled by a will stronger than his own, Low Stromberg dropped the gun. It was an odd thing. All the anger faded from his eyes: there was a meekness in them and a bafflement. Della clung to him, softly sobbing. He placed an arm around her shoulders and said, "Hush, child. I'm all right."

Then he looked at Rimbaud and said wonderingly, "You could've shot me. But you didn't. Why?"

Rimbaud shrugged, marveling at the abrupt admiration he felt for this little man.

"Why didn't you shoot?" Stromberg demanded.

"Ask your daughter," suggested Rimbaud.

"But I thought you said you didn't want."

Rimbaud cut him off, saying, "You think too much and you talk too much." He wanted no reference to the marriage proposition here.

Stromberg continued to stare at him, as if unable to believe that so notorious a gunman had refrained from shooting. He said, "I'm much obliged, Rimbaud. Real obliged."

"Enough to do me a favor?" Rimbaud asked slyly.

And when Stromberg nodded, Rimbaud said, "Leave those Spanish Strip folks alone."

"I will," Stromberg agreed. Then a self-mocking smile creased his dark face and he added, "After what's happened I ain't got much choice."

Rimbaud liked that. He said, "That's fine, Lew."

Observing that the crowd outside was so large it bulged through the batwings, Rimbaud walked to the rear doorway.

Slowly, in the plodding way of a man bone-weary, Rimbaud walked to his horse. And presently, leading it past the back stoop of Eve Odegarde's restaurant, he looked at the kitchen hoping for sight of her. But the kitchen was empty, and he thought: She'll be welcoming Sam Maiben out of jail. Eve was probably kissing him now; giving him a taste of all the wild sweet flavor that was in store for him. Rimbaud grinned, glad he'd had a little luck with that first shot of his in the Shiloh. They'd have talked about Ernie Link and told how he chopped down Jim Rimbaud.

Link drifted over to the Alhambra lobby and glanced at the register. It was there, big as brass: "Jim Rimbaud, Two Tanks, Texas. Room Number 8."

Ernie went out to the veranda and surreptitiously transferred the little double-barreled derringer to his right hand. The man who gunned down Rimbaud would be famous. He'd be better known than Junction, Arizona.

JIM RIMBAUD was on the bed half asleep, when someone knocked at the door of his hotel room.

The knock came again.

"Who's there?" Rimbaud called, feeling no sense of apprehension;

feeling nothing beyond a languid, benumbing weariness.

"Me—Sam Maiben."

"Come on in," Rimbaud invited, and was holstering his gun when the door opened.

Maiben came over to the bed and shook hands in the queerly solemn fashion of a man going through a necessary ritual. "I'm sure much obliged," he said soberly. "You took long chances tackling Jubal and those others like you did. Awful long chances."

Then, frankly curious, he added, "I don't see how you done it, or why."

Rimbaud shrugged, still resenting this man who would be Eve Odegarde's husband, and embarrassed by his gratitude.

As if sharing a kindred embarrassment, Maiben said, "Well, things have sure changed considerably since the last time we met, Jim. For me and some others. I never saw the beat of it. You wouldn't think so much could happen in so short a time. Take Lew Stromberg, for instance. He don't act like the same man."

Maiben walked over to the doorway and turned, and said in an odd, flat voice, "Eve told me to tell you it's not too late for supper if you'll eat in the kitchen."

Then he went out and closed the door.

Rimbaud smiled, recalling how Eve had told him that once before. This invitation, he supposed, was her way of thanking him for clearing Sam; for furnishing them a marriage bed. She would have a new name soon. Eve Maiben. Mrs. Sam Maiben. But she'd always be Eve Odegarde to him.

"Well," mused Rimbaud, "I can stand some food. And I might get a farewell kiss for dessert." (To be continued)

Jackson Is Back in Line-up As Warren Ends Season Tonight Home Game With Franklin

Each Joe Massa stated this morning that Ron Isackson will back in his starting role tonight, when the Warren High Dragons bring down the curtain on the 1952 campaign against Franklin the Beauty Junior High hard-core game time for the Section A contest is 8:15.

The leading Dragon scorer was duty last Friday against Oil because of an arm injury, but again in top shape. Regulars Harrington, Bob Wilson and Hartnett will fill up the first berths in the lineup, the fifth as-up between Bruce Duell and Gordon. The latter vacated last by Gary Entinger, who saved a cut foot that ended his on February 19.

The Dragons, 49-43 losers to Franklin in the first encounter,

Through The Wind Tunnel

Today's early morning visitors to the post office could hear Spring coming. "Beep, beep, beep," cried the baby chicks, just arrived from distant hatcheries.

With even a part of the unfinished Coffee Shoppe thrown into use, the Carver had a dinner party in every dining room and practically every corner of the new lounge, Thursday night.

Discovery of lip-sticked cigarette butts in our desk ash tray indicates that we must have left the office too, too early on Thursday p. m.

The birds in Hooktown are loudly lamenting their lack of food. Their kindly benefactress, Mrs. Oscar Donaldson, cracked a rib while feeding them earlier this week.

Local basketball fans are in for a full week-end of entertainment. The Dragons play Franklin here tonight, then the Wills and Rocket teams will top things off by playing the New York Barons, a famous colored team, and the Sigma Phi Epsilon five from Westminster. Saturday night, at Beauty, Rod Kerchner and his college pals have a good, fast-playing aggregation which should win great favor here.

Pictorial views of what's coming in the Marconi Outing Club this week-end are almost sure to attract a crowd.

Visitors from Milwaukee who were in Warren last night, had heard all about the local Jaycees activities in Warren, "way out in Wisconsin."

In the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, early this week, Rep. Earl E. Hewitt, Sr., of Indiana, called attention to the 79th birthday anniversary of Honus Wagner, member of the Hall of Fame and former great shortstop and coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates. "Honus was the greatest shortstop the game has ever known and has always been a great credit to the game of baseball," Hewitt told the House.

Along with a few other squad members, Lou has been working out with Coach Homer Barr all week in prepping for the big event. A victory for the young scrapper would mean a change in the regionals, which are followed by the state matches.

The Dragon grappler spent part of the season wrestling in the 103-pound class where he pinned four men. At 95 Lou had three pins and two decisions.

Lou, who has a winning streak of 11 this season, got to the District finals by pinning Petulla of Oil City and Brown of Titusville. Tomorrow night Lou's likely opponent is Schnieder of Erie Academy. The Erie eliminations were not held until last night.

YOUNGSVILLE AND STYLISTS ARE DEFEATED

Warren Business School and Wills Cleaners each staged 32-point victories last night to remain in a nip and tuck race for the YMCA-City basketball league second half crown. The Schoolboys defeated the Style Shop, 84 to 52, and Wills handed Youngsville its 12th straight loss, 76 to 44.

The Business School still holds a half-game lead with six wins this half, while Wills has tallied five. Both have a current win streak of eight straight.

There was plenty of high scoring last night with three floormen hitting the 20-point mark. Individual laurels went to Wills' Bill Massa, who garnered 13 fielders for a high 26 points, while Prescario and Hud-Berdine racked up 24 and 22 respectively for the schoolboys.

The Business School worked up to a 39-19 half time lead, poured it on 22-14 in the third canto and continued to blaze with 23 points in the final eight minutes. Besides Prescario and Berdine, Ken Thompson helped with the scoring duties, hitting for 15, and Paul Smith led the Style Shop with 11.

Wills also got a fast start with a 21-13 spread in the first stanza and after adding four more points in the next two periods, finished off with a 20-point advantage. Bob Reese and Bob Simpson assisted Massa with 13 points apiece and Bill Pollard led Youngsville with 15.

Anglers Reminded Of Month's Ban On Fishing in State

Through the columns of the Pennsylvania Angler, its official monthly magazine, the Pennsylvania Fish Commission directs the attention of all fishermen to the law of 1949 which prohibits all kinds of fishing in any waters of the state from midnight, March 14th to 5:00 a. m., April 15th; except rivers, lakes and ponds not stocked with trout.

In order to clarify some confusion about the exceptions in the act, the Fish Commission further points out that even though a creek has never been a trout stream and has never been stocked with trout, it comes within the provisions of the act and is closed during this period. Only rivers, lakes and ponds that are not stocked with trout remain open. The penalty for failure to comply with the act is a fine of five dollars and costs for the first offense and twenty dollars and costs for second and subsequent offenses.

The Commission further brings to the attention of the fishermen in Pennsylvania that the day's limit of trout beginning April 15th, 1953, is eight which is also the possession limit at any time.

Fireworks Promised Tonight as Salas And Marcune Meet

New York (AP) — Laure Salas, a wade-in fighter, and Pat Marcune, a right hand boxer who likes his opponents to come to him, collide tonight in a Madison Square Garden ten rounder which promises to provide plenty of fireworks.

Told that the former lightweight champion from Mexico would try to "warm all over" him, Marcune said "that's right up my alley."

The boxing mob is finding this one a toughie to pick. The betting right now is pick 'em — even money — and there's plenty of wagering on the outcome. The pick here is Salas on his greater experience and stamina.

Starting at 10 p. m., EST, the bout will be broadcast ABC and telecast NBC. A crowd of around 6,000 will pay about $15,000 at 33 tops. With TV money thrown in, the fighters will receive about $5,000 each.

Allentown Without Field, Inter-State League on Way Out

Allentown, Pa. (AP) — The Class B Interstate Baseball League appeared to be foundering on the rocks again today following an announcement by a Philadelphia contractor that he had abandoned efforts to field a team at Allentown this year.

Charles Cohen told a group of Allentown Boosters last Monday he was negotiating with the St. Louis Cardinals for use of Broad Field for the Allentown club. and if successful, Allentown, Lancaster and Sunbury, Pa., and Salisbury, Md., would operate a four-team circuit this season.

Cohen conceded last night that efforts to negotiate with St. Louis were unsuccessful.

NEW OWNER OF RECORD

Rosey Grier, 230-pound football tackle, is the new owner of Penn State's shot put record. The Roselle, N. J., sophomore heaved the shot 51 feet, ¼ inch in a dual meet against Army. Another footballer, Charles (Chuck) Drazenovich, now of the Washington Redskins, set the previous record of 50 feet, 1 inch in 1950. Grier will compete in the IC-4A championships Feb. 21.

BULLETIN SAYS DEER PROBLEM PLAGUES MOST BIG GAME STATES

F. M. Geer, North Warren, member of the Pennsylvania Sanitary Water Board, submits the following Games Commission news release now being circulated under the heading "Deer Problem Plagues Other Big Game States."

A recent news bulletin from the Michigan Department of Conservation reveals that the same deer management problems now facing Pennsylvania vex other states. It reads:

"Michigan's deer herd — along with that of other states — is going to grow smaller in years to come, whether hunters, the general public and game men like it or not.

"Conservationists throughout the North American white-tail range point out that we haven't much choice but to accept smaller herds because food supplies are being permanently reduced. They are asking effective herd management now to help the deer get through these downward 'growing pains' in the best possible manner.

"Ralph D. Bird, Manitoba white-tail authority, recently wrote of this problem: 'Favorable food plants (in northern Manitoba) are quickly overbrowsed and deer are forced to eat less nutritious food. Under severe conditions the favored food plants are killed by heavy overbrowsing and wholesale starvation of deer follows. The deer herd can never increase to its original numbers as the carrying capacity of the pasture has been permanently lowered.'

"The Wisconsin conservation department's Bulletin magazine for February also sounds a warning against letting that state's herd build up to the size it reached before 1949, when an active program of management was started. 'Hunting,' says the magazine, 'will not live up to its possibilities if Wisconsin again becomes so obsessed with saving deer as to let a growing herd largely starve and go to waste, as in the 1930's and 1940's. With much of the brush now pole size or larger, out of reach of deer, the state cannot afford to ruin its limited deer-food supply a second time by permitting the herd to outgrow it again.'

"A recent article in Pennsylvania's Game News magazine points out the heyday of the big kill in that state is already past. Diminishing populations in Pennsylvania, says the article, are inevitable, no matter what we do. Closing the season entirely would only hasten the process. Shooting the deer down to rock bottom would help but little because now it is too late. There would be no recovery because there is no food for recovery."

"Michigan game men bolster these statements, saying diminishing food supplies mean fewer deer in the future. The big problems of deer herd management lie in the future. Last year's 'any deer' season, they say was only the start of a long-range program designed to bring herd and range food supplies into closer balance."

Where Silence Is Eloquent!

Have you ever heard a 1953 Cadillac?

The odds are that you haven't—unless you've listened quite carefully.

For it is a literal fact that you must concentrate to detect the sound of a Cadillac car in motion... save, of course, for the soft song of the passing wind and the quiet hum of the tires on the pavement.

Even that great, powerful engine never raises its voice above a whisper!

But, oh, the wonderful, wonderful story this marvelous quiet tells.

It tells, for instance, of Cadillac's rigid adherence to the highest ideals of automotive construction... of the great engineering that enables every part of the car to perform in perfect harmony... of the magnificent styling and design that give the car its smooth, easy, steady, floating ride... and of the flawless craftsmanship that keeps the car so unbelievably free from vibration through the miles and the years.

And, of course, it speaks with equal clarity of the many things a Cadillac provides its owner.

It promises rest and relaxation... and a freedom from distraction that adds safety to every journey.

It foretells mile after mile of extraordinary dependability and a minimum of upkeep expense.

And, of course, it prophesies longevity... and, hence, bespeaks the wisdom and soundness of its owner's investment.

Yes, the quiet of the Cadillac car tells a wonderful story all of its own. And it's one that we think you should "hear" for yourself.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour with a 1953 Cadillac?

We think you'll agree that silence has never been more eloquent.

Stevenson Makes Plea for Unity At "Austerity Dinner"

Los Angeles (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson asked some 1,200 Democratic austerity dinner guests last night to "never sow division when it is so important to harvest unity."

They applauded his plea and also his declaration that "while we may be a defeated party, we are not a beaten party."

"I for one hope and pray that we shall be spared the spectacle of Democratic orators taking a leaf from recent history and mouthing nonsense about 'Eisenhower's War,'" he said. "Rather, we stay out of office forever than win it back that way."

This was an apparent reference to Republican cries of "Truman's War" in the last campaign.

Adherents of the defeated Democratic presidential candidate filled the Biltmore Hotel bowl for a "Western States austerity dinner."

The $100-a-plate menu included split pea soup, corned beef and cabbage, boiled new potatoes, apple pie with cheese and coffee.

It was learned today that a petition will be circulated the next few days to have the name of Thomas J. Conway, 116 East Wayne street, placed on the ballot as a candidate for councilman from the seventh ward on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Conway is a lifelong resident of Warren, excepting for the time that he was in the Armed Forces. He is employed at the Floridin Company and is a member of the American Legion and Warren Lodge of Elks.

Dulles Says Probes May Help Department

Washington, (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the State Department needs remedial action from the Republican administration. He added that congressional investigations may help in this respect.

In a formal statement at his news conference Dulles said it will take months to reorganize the department and get the personnel situation "in satisfactory shape."

Meanwhile, he said, congressional inquiries will be going on and he made clear that he intends to cooperate with them.

In subsequent questions Dulles was asked whether the State Department needs investigating. He replied it needed remedial action and he thought he and his associates were competent to take that action. He did not spell out what he meant by this.

Sen. Carlson Says Spending May Be Cut By $8 Billion

Washington, (AP) — Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said today government spending can be reduced by $8,000,000,000 or more, leading to the hope of reduced taxes this year.

"The people expect it of us," Carlson said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

Carlson, who was one of resident Eisenhower's key associates in the presidential election campaign, agreed that the first obligation of the new Republican administration is to get the government's spending and income in balance.

Eisenhower has said taxes should not be reduced until a balanced budget is in sight, and that it would be terrifically hard to achieve a balance. Carlson was more optimistic.

A reduction of spending during January, coupled with the policy outlined in a Budget Bureau directive of freezing expenditures and what he called the desire of Congress to eliminate wasteful spending, gives every indication Congress will be able to hold expenditures down to the 1952 budget level of $66,100,000,000, he said.

This would be $8,000,000,000 less than former President Truman's budget estimates for the current fiscal year ending June 30 and $12,500,000,000 less than the 1954 fiscal year estimates, he said.

Light Tax Burden For Venango Residents

Franklin—A county budget tentatively adopted by the Venango County commissioners will, if it is finally adopted, exempt residents from real estate and occupational taxes for the seventh straight year. The money will come from the four-mill tax rate on securities.

The tentative budget shows a general fund balance as of Jan. 3, 1953, of $334,850.53. Receipts this year are estimated at $283,600 and expenditures at $616,620. Total cash on hand and estimated receipts amount to $618,450.53.

Largest single item of estimated income is $250,000 from a personal property tax levied under state law. The commissioners also look for $29,550 in earnings from various county departments during the year.

The budget will be open for inspection for 10 days before it is considered for final adoption.

A $40,000 capital outlay item is included in estimated expenditures under court house improvements.

The budget also provides for capital outlays of $15,000 for the register and recorder's office; $3,000 for the sheriff's office; $3,500 in improvements for the Venango County jail; and a total capital outlay of $30,000 for roads and bridges under county care.

Turkey and Yugoslavia Sign Trade Agreement

Ankara, Turkey (AP) — A 70-million-dollar Turkish-Yugoslav trade agreement was on the rocks today as a prelude to the signing here of a friendship and collaboration treaty by the two nations and their other anti-Soviet Balkan neighbor, Greece.

Under the commercial pact signed here yesterday by Turkey and Yugoslavia, the Turks will send Marshal Tito's country wheat, cotton, scrap iron, oil, seeds and manganese.

In return, they will receive from Yugoslavia, timber, machinery, iron, woolen and cotton goods and aluminum manufacturers.

NEW WELL NEAR SPARTA
According to the Titusville Herald two Spartansburg men, Edward G. Webber and Harold Hammond, have started a new oil well at Hatchtown, four miles south of "Q" wardmond, ney. H. K. H. - east of Spartansburg. The men have formed a company and have employed H. E. Onley of Grand Valley as the driller. They expect to go down to about 800 feet and so far have the drive pipe in. The well, on the Walter Mays farm, is about a half mile from the nearest previous well. The field is the upper end of the old Church Run belt, and is near where gas wells at one time produced gas for use in Spartansburg. Mr. Webber is an old hand at the oil business, having been in it all his life. Mr. Hammond is the owner of the Two-Lite Inn near Sparta.

Duck Baby Sitter
A friend out in Nebraska sent me a story he found in his paper. It was about a duck that was owned by some people who had a year old baby. Out on the front lawn the duck had set up an imaginary yard which he felt was large enough for the baby to play in. Whenever baby got to the edge of this space Deacon would get in front of it and quack loudly until baby turned the other way. The baby had once fallen down the front steps, so whenever baby got near the steps, Deacon quacked so loudly the baby would come. Seems like Deacon was a very good baby sitter.

Then one day I read in a paper about a woman who had been hired as a baby sitter, and had been arrested for being drunk on duty. Seems that she got drunk while taking care of this baby and took it for a drive in her car. The police arrested her for drunk driving while the baby was with her.

People say us animals don't have much sense, but guess what we do have is good.

RAGS

Hartford, Conn.—The Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford Connecticut, a noted authority on accidents states: "The staggering drunk, bad as he is; is not the big problem. Drunks behind the wheels are vastly outnumbered by the drivers whose two or three or four drinks make them feel and look harmless. They don't reel when they walk, but they kill when they drive."

More Care Urged In Applying For New License Tags

Applicants for new license tags are making every mistake imaginable on checks and Money Orders they are sending to the Revenue Department.

Secretary Otto F. Messner announces that more faulty remittances are coming into the Bureau of Motor Vehicles than in any previous renewal period.

"I believe most of the errors are due to haste and thoughtlessness," he says. "But the money cannot be accepted if the check or money order is not correctly and completely made out. The application has to be returned and, naturally, there is a delay in finally getting the plate to the owner."

Probably the one main reason for mistakes this year is unfamiliarity with the new law which changed the next expiration date for commercial vehicle tags from March 31, 1954 to May 31, 1954. Instead of forwarding a check or money order for a 14-month period this time, owners are sending in the fee for only one year—that, despite the fact that the correct amount is stamped in large numerals on the new applications they are receiving.

Thousands of the other errors, though, have no origin in a change of law.

"Some applicants are sending us the fee for a passenger car instead of a truck or some other commercial vehicle," he discloses. "Others are sending the fee for an operator's license, or making out the check or money order in favor of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, instead of to the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue."

Then there are the applicants who fail to sign their check, or who show one amount in numerals, then spell out a different sum.

Secretary Messner announces that all renewal applications for new plates have been mailed to every owner. If he or she has not received it by Thursday, February 28, he urges that the owner contact the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, at once. To facilitate checking the records, the owner should be sure to mention his title number.

Others like 23.91 maximum drawbar horsepower; full-width operator platform; clear unobstructed vision; big 10-34 tires; the weight and power to handle both mounted and pull-behind tools mean the 22 does more work faster, easier, at less cost. And remember, the 22 is the lowest-priced tractor per drawbar horsepower in the 2-plow field. Stop in for complete details... see us today. Be one of the first on our demonstration schedule.

March 16th Tax Deadline Creeping Up Officials Warn

While a majority of taxpayers are still working on their income tax returns, which must be filed by March 16, the Bureau of Internal Revenue's refunding program is keeping pace with the early returns. R. S. Kraft, acting director of Internal Revenue, has announced that about 355,892 persons who filed early tax returns have already received refunds. At the present time, returns are being processed and taxpayers usually get their refunds within about 15 days after filing. The director warns, however, that taxpayers who wait until the March 16 deadline for filing 1952 tax statements may expect a longer wait.

It is the policy of the Internal Revenue Service to issue refunds to those who are entitled to them as soon as possible, but in cases of extra delay, the bureau pays interest on the amount due, Mr. Kraft said.

The taxpayer himself may hasten his refund by writing the word "Refund" in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope in which he mails his tax return. Mail so marked will be given priority. Mr. Kraft also advises that taxpayers who change residence after filing their tax forms should notify the director's office of their new addresses. Each year tens of thousands of refund checks are returned to revenue offices, and over one million remained undelivered at the end of 1952. These checks, some issued ten years ago, average $32. Mr. Kraft says that positive identification and claiming of old checks is difficult, and that taxpayers with claims should be able to supply information on the amount of refund and the taxable year involved. Last year the bureau made refunds to 31 million taxpayers.

Grand Valley Trapper Bags 63-Pound Beaver

A big beaver which looked like a young bear in size was trapped Wednesday by Michael Savitz, 29, of Grand Valley, Route 1. According to the Titusville Herald, the animal, a record for this district, weighed 63 pounds. It measured four feet from nose to tail and was 18 inches broad. The flat tail alone was 12 inches long and 6 1/2 inches wide, and the web on a hind foot spread out to 7 inches.

Mr. Savitz snared the bulky brown beaver in Caldwell Creek on the Vincent Sedina farm near Grand Valley. A No. 4 Victor long spring trap held it by only two frayed tendons on the left front leg, as the bones were broken. The beaver had bitten so savagely at the trap to free itself that it had dislodged several teeth.

When skinned out, the beaver is estimated to measure over 82 inches. A few years ago it would have commanded a handsome price but today it will bring only about $30 to $40.

Many trappers viewed the mammoth beaver when it was on display in a local garage yesterday. Mr. Savitz, trapping on a part-time basis, has snared 98 muskrats and 7 mink this winter.
